Conflict of Interests Policy

The Company provides the Client this Conflict of Interests Policy under the provisions of the Company regulations and policies, which may be changed or amended from time to time without notice. The Company takes reasonable steps in preventing and detecting any conflict of interest.

This policy applies to the Company and its authorized representatives, the Client, and third parties involved in the transactions between the Client and the Company.

During conflicts, the Company will collect information about the conflict as an initial procedure to prevent or control the possible exchange of information from the preceding exchange between the involved parties.

The Company will then take necessary procedures or measures it deems fit to prevent the conflict resulting in inappropriate exchanges or actions.

The Client agrees to consent to the Terms of the Conflict Policy. The Client agrees and authorizes the Company to deal with his/her transactions that it believes to be for the best interest of both parties. In cases of disputes that the Company may not be able to address, a consultation with the Client will be conducted.

Conflicts may be identified when the Company makes a financial gain or prevent loss at the Client's expense or when the Company takes an interest in the Client's account. Additionally, the Company may consider it as a conflict of interest if a Client sells or distribute the Company's services without consent.

Throughout the relationship between the parties, the Company may disclose this policy should an issue arise prior to the undertaking of any business or transaction with the Client.
